Russia And Japan Make Promises To Stop Fighting In Manchuria.

MIKADO AND CZAR ACCEPT TERMS

Work of Signing The Peace Treaty Will Be On Tuesday Next--St. Petersburg and Tokio Are In Turmoil.

Tokio, Sept. 1.—The Japanese press is unanimous in denouncing the clemency shown Russia. Popular disappointment is deepening daily. The remarkable political unity which was maintained during the war has disappeared, and an intense anti-government agitation is beginning. The more radical newspapers are renewing the agitation for a representative assembly, basing their arguments on recent Portsmouth developments. Flags in Tokio appeared at half mast when the news was received.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—Court circles are intensely disgusted with the peace terms. One word of disapproval from Tokio suggesting that Japan did not desire to be bound by them might result in a flareup here in defense of war and the national honor.

Portsmouth, Sept. 1.—The President has declined invitations to attend the signing of the treaty and to accompany the party into the White mountains. The treaty will probably be signed Tuesday. It will be a simple occasion and take place in the conference room of the navy yards.

The Armistice
The proclamation of an armistice is to go into effect immediately. It is being drawn up by the envoys at the Hotel Wentworth without any special formality of a meeting at the navy yards. It will at once be cabled to Lincolnton and Oyma.

Armistice Signed
Portsmouth, Sept. 1.—The armistice proclamation was signed at high noon.

POLICE PROTECTION FOR ITALIAN CONSUL

Claims That Philadelphia Newspaper Published in His Language Has Labeled Him.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—At the instance of the Italian consul here the State department has forwarded to the governor of Pennsylvania the request that the state officials direct inquiry by the district attorney at Philadelphia into an alleged prosecution of the Italian Consul at Philadelphia, Count Naselli, with a view to applying the criminal libel law to those who are alleged to have slandered him.

If the case comes under the purview of the Pennsylvania law, Count Naselli claims that he has been the object of persistent and unwarranted attack by a newspaper published in the Italian language at Philadelphia. Upon the occasion of the visit of an Italian warship to Philadelphia recently the Commander Ronca was instructed to investigate the situation, and found that the publications were unwarranted. As a result of his report, to the ambassador, the latter wrote the consul that he had cabled to Rome, complete vindication of Count Naselli and refutation of all that had been alleged against him in the publication. Following this action the ambassador brought the case to the attention of the State department and asked that the criminal libel law of Pennsylvania be invoked against the alleged persecutors of the consul. The department has been informed that the Mayor of Philadelphia, has accorded police protection to Count Naselli as requested through the Italian ambassador and the state department.

LAW TO PROTECT SECRET SOCIETIES

Regulation Makes Unauthorized Use of Fraternal Tokens a Punishable Crime.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The new bill protecting those secret fraternities from outsiders using their degree secrets and signs takes effect today. This bill is designed to protect fraternities from the unauthorized conferring of their degrees and the solicitation by unauthorized persons or applicants for degrees or secret membership in such fraternities. The bill amends the penal code and was introduced by Mr. Santee. It provides that any persons, who willfully, by aid of any false token or writing, or without the authority of the grand lodge of the order, obtain the signature of any person to any written publication, or any money or property alleged or pretended degree, secret work or secrets of or membership in, any secret fraternal society, having a grand lodge in this state, or in any subordinate lodge or body thereof, is subject to a penalty of imprisonment of not more than three years or by fine to the amount not exceeding the value of the money or property so obtained, or by both. This act was signed by Governor Higgins.

INDIAN LANDS ARE OPENED TO PUBLIC

Fertile Reservation of the Uintahs Thrown Open for Settlement.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 1.—The opening of the Uintah Indian Reservation takes place today. 2,425,000 acres of fertile land in the most favored sections of Utah are thrown open to the public for settlement. The reservation lies in the north of Denver and Rio Grande system in the Uintah and Wasatch counties. It extends from Green river on the east to within a short distance of Heber, the county seat of Wasatch county on the west. At the confluence of the Uintah rivers the tract has an altitude of 4,000 feet, and then rises in plateaus of mesa lands. The snow peaks forty or fifty miles away, stand out seemingly within a stone's throw, but the valley climate is temperate, with almost perpetual sunshine, as the ranges ward off both cold in winter and the heat in summer. The number of rivers and streams affords excellent facilities for irrigation, while many of the rivers have an abrupt enough fall to afford water-power of great value. The Uintah Indians are no longer savages, and have adopted many of the methods of the whites. They have been allotted lands and the balance of the reservation will be thrown open to settlement. Under the terms of the allotment each of the natives, who was at the head of the family received 80 acres, 40 more being added for each person in the family. In this way the Indians have been given 300,000 acres. Vernal, a small town is the outfitting point during the period preceding the reservation colonizing.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR TAKE ARCANUM PATH

Old Fraternal Order Raises Rates of All Its Older and Veteran Members.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 1.—The Knights of Honor, one of the oldest benefit orders of the United States, have adopted a new radical change which goes into effect today. It calls for a change in the assessment of the older members of from $5.00 to $15.00, while the rates of the younger members remains the same as formerly. The situation is somewhat similar to that which prevails in the Royal Arcanum. It is expected that the older members will protest vigorously.

ALARM IN GERMANY AT PLAGUE SPREAD

Increase in Cholera Cases Gives Rise to Fear Long Fight Will Be Necessary.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—The spread of cholera from two localities on the River Weichsel five days ago to thirty-four cases in twelve localities extending from the Baltic to the River Warthe, 150 miles south, and its appearance in Hamburg has given an unpleasant thrill to the people of Germany, for it may mean a long and steady fight, as in 1892-93, to prevent the disease from getting beyond control. In those years it is estimated that 800,000 persons died in Russia from cholera.

The Prussian government is keenly aware of the possibilities of the danger, which so far is not regarded as giving occasion for apprehension. Grain traffic with Russia on the Warthe and Netze rivers may be stopped by the government to prevent river men coming from Russia into Germany.

Cases in Many Towns.
Two deaths from cholera have occurred among river men in a village at the intersection of the Warthe and the Netze. One river man is suffering from the disease at Graunzen and another has been taken there from Boeslersboe. Danzig reports one new case and one death at Neu-Fahwasser, making seven deaths in all in that locality. Paris and Warnikheim report one death and several suspicious cases each.

Two Deaths in Austria.
Lemberg, Austria, Sept. 1.—Two deaths from cholera have occurred here and several suspected cases are under observation.

POSTAL OFFICIALS TABOO SUPPLEMENTS

No More Songs, Cut-Out Pictures, or Similar Newspaper "Extras" Through Mail.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 1.—A new newspaper bill goes into effect today which prohibits the publishers of newspapers, to present their publications for mailing with so-called supplements, which consist of calendars, sheet music, patterns, blocks of post cards, series of cut-out animal pictures, soldiers and naval vessels, etc. Publishers have no doubt thought these things permissible under the law of 1879, but they are not and postmasters are directed to notify publishers that such supplements violate the law, and after today the legal rates will be charged on all such matter.

ALL THE MINES MAY BE CLOSED

Entire Stoppage Of Coal Next Spring Is Held As Possibility Now.

JOINT ACTION IS BEING PLANNED

Both Hard And Soft Coal Workers Would Be Out, Tying Up The World's Supply Of Both Varieties.

Indianapolis, Sept. 1.—The closing of every coal mine in the country—bituminous as well as anthracite—and an entire stoppage of the fuel supply next spring now is declared more than probable. Both sides seem preparing for the fray, and all signs point to a desperate struggle beside which the great anthracite strike will pale into insignificance.

The eight-hour day and a full recognition of the unions by all operators are the chief points at issue and over these the war will be waged.

Fusion Well Under Way.
Leading Indiana operators declare the movement to unite the miners of the bituminous field with the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania has made rapid though quiet progress, and it is more than probable that the meeting of operators in Chicago on Nov. 22 will result in the formation of an organization whose object will be to resist the effort.

The operators say that a union of the anthracite and bituminous workers for such a purpose would tie up every mine in the country, for it is practically certain that the nonunion miners would join with the unionists in such a demand.

Some of the operators believe that John Mitchell is getting ready to play the strongest game ever played by organized labor in uniting the entire strength of the men in the bituminous and anthracite fields in the demand for better conditions for miners. It is probable the Chicago meeting will discuss the joint conference of operators and miners at Indianapolis.

Prices Go Up To-day.
Indiana bituminous coal prices at the mines have been advanced 10 cents a ton, which is smaller than the usual September advance, and leaves the various prices, according to quality, lower than a year ago. The best grade of domestic, not including block, will be $1.40 at the mines.

Operators Draw Closer.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 1.—An industrial movement of extraordinary proportions is under way, which contemplates the formation of a national organization of the bituminous coal operators of the country. The operators have come to the conclusion that they can only hold their own by thorough organization and an association of this character will enable them to meet the miners on equal ground. Steps for the formation of a strong organization have been taken, and it probably will be perfected at the meeting to be held on Nov. 22 in Chicago. The association of commissioners and secretaries of coal operators' association is at the head of the movement.

Contracts End Together.
At the end of the anthracite strike Mitchell was unable to use the bituminous miners in a sympathetic strike because they were under contract, and adherence to contracts has been one of the leader's strong points with the operators. It is said that when the anthracite strike was brought to an end he purposely fixed the date for the expiration of a three years' contract at April 6, 1906, so that it would be concurrent with the expiration of the bituminous miners' contracts.

LIVELY PICNIC OF AFTON WOODMEN

Janesville Eagles Won Ball Game— Attorney Cunningham Calls Roosevelt Greatest Man.

Afton, Sept. 1.—Perfect weather greeted the Modern Woodmen of Afton and their friends as they assembled in Miller's grove for the annual picnic of Afton Camp Thursday, and a day full of enjoyment was the result. The weather man always seems to conspire with the Woodmen whenever they have a gala day planned and he did not fail them on this occasion. From the opening of the well filled lunch baskets at the noon hour until the final good-bye was said, there was something of interest and pleasure for all. Leaver's harp orchestra of Beloit furnished sweet music during the afternoon, which added greatly to the enjoyment of the outing. Attorney J. J. Cunningham of Janesville was speaker of the day and delivered a forceful address on "Wonderland," paying high tribute to the great order, which he placed at the very front of fraternal insurance societies. In the course of his remarks the speaker referred to complimentary terms to President Roosevelt, denominating him as the greatest man in the world today, a sentiment that was warmly applauded by the assemblage. In the realm of sports and games there was also something doing during the afternoon, foot races, a tug-of-war, a pigeon shoot and a baseball game being the chief features. William Brinkman and F. H. Otis captained the picked teams in the tug-of-war event, the former being the winner. In the marksmanship contest Dr. Gibson of Janesville was the champion, breaking 14 out of 15 birds. The baseball game was a snappy one from start to finish, the opposing teams being the Janesville Eagles and the Afton nine. The game resulted in a victory for the Eagles, the score being 5 to 4. This is the first defeat sustained by the local team this season and the husky boys from Janesville had to keep their fighting clothes on from start to finish in order to win. The day ended with a dance at Brinkman's hall, for which Leaver furnished the music.

Consulting Engineers Of

There are fourteen members on the consulting board, a number of them being foreigners.

TO LAY CORNER STONE TUESDAY

PROGRAM FOR OCCASION HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

BISHOP FOWLER WILL SPEAK

W. W. Cargill, Donor of Ten Thousand Dollars, Will Lay the Corner Stone.

Next Tuesday afternoon the cornerstone of the new Cargill Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, now
building at the corner of Pleasant
and South Franklin streets, will be laid
with appropriate services and ceremony. The program, which Rev.
Tippett has been arranging for the past several weeks, is now complete
and is most excellent for the occasion. It will be conducted at three o'clock from the floor of the partially
erected new structure if the weather permits. Should rain or excessively
low temperature make the open-air
services inadvisable all portions of the program, except the actual laying of the corner-stone, will take place in the Court street edifice.

Bishop Fowler and Cargill
Both Bishop Fowler of New York City and W. W. Cargill of La Crosse
have sent assurances of their coming,
the former to deliver the address and
the latter to perform the actual ceremony of laying the corner-stone. Doctor Fowler is one of the greatest platform speakers in America and he is universally recognized as one of the most eminent orators Methodism has ever possessed. From position of a small minister he has risen through
all of the great offices in his church
to the highest that man is able to occupy, the bishopric. At the time of the great Chicago fire he occupied a pulpit in the great city. Soon after that he was made pastor and then
president of Northwestern University.
He has also been editor of the New York Advocate, the periodical of influence in the Methodist society, and Missionary secretary of the world organization. The variety of duties
which he has performed and the success which he has attained at all times shows that he is equal to any
place which the church can give him.
Mr. Cargill in his boyhood days lived in Janesville and he was brought up in the Court Street Methodist Sunday school. Now possessed of a vast fortune, owning grain elevators, real estate and other properties worth millions in northern Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas, he has remembered his former church and by a donation of ten thousand made possible the new edifice.

Many Local Ministers
Many pastors from nearby cities
and towns will be present and several participate in the program. Invitations have been sent to each
clergyman in the Janesville district
and between thirty and forty are expected to respond. The following is the program:
Carnet Solo—"The Holy City."
Hymn—"Bless Be the Tie That Binds."
Ritual Service.
Prayer.....R. S. McChesney, D. D.
Scripture Lesson, 1 Cor. 3:9-23.
Hymn No. 2.
Address.....Bishop C. H. Fowler, D. D., LL.D.
Laying Corner-stone by W. W. Cargill.
Benediction.

Regulation of Atmosphere
The furnace for the new church
has been purchased and will be installed immediately. The plant is known as the Johnson hot-air furnace
and is equipped with an electric blast
and automatic regulators. With this
the atmosphere in the auditorium is completely changed every six minutes and no danger of impure air or fluctuating temperature is probable.
With the same system and in a
church of almost the same plan and
size as the Cargill church it has been found possible on exceedingly hot
days in summer to lower the temperature to sixty-eight degrees by closing the windows and using the cold
air tubes.

With the exception of the laying
of the floor all work on the building
is proceeding swiftly and steadily.
The timbers for the floor have been
delayed in transit but are expected
very soon. The church will be under roof before the frost comes and possibly all the masonry done. The finishing will be commenced as soon
as the building season opens in the spring and the church brought to completion before hot weather.

Business of the Police.
The police department is not a law-making body. It is a law-enforcing department. It is not the business of the police department to quibble over
what the law ought to be, but
rather diligently what the law
is, and enforce it.—President Spartling.

gregation was in attendance. Later
in the evening, in conference with a committee, he was apprised of the local
facts and possibilities of the local field. The formal call must be issued by the presbytery to which the Janes-
ville church belongs on the jurisdiction of the Chicago church, or in lieu
of this the Chicago pastor will secure permission to be transferred to the Wisconsin presbytery. It is believed that he will accept the call.

LISTER SENTENCED TO TERM IN JAIL

In Default of Payment of $25 Fine for Stealing Tools—Father Wealthy
Chicago Manufacturer.

James Lister appeared in municipal court yesterday afternoon and
pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing certain tools and dies from the Howe Bros. factory. He was sentenced to either pay a fine of $25 or spend 28 days in jail. Lister's story
to the effect that his father was a wealthy glue manufacturer in Chicago
was confirmed by reference to Dun & Bradstreet and by a telephone
message which brought the reply
from a brother that he would take
up the matter with the elder Lister
at once. The prisoner had left home
to shift for himself and had been at work as a painter for one of the railroad companies at Roundout. He fell in with a company of roving individuals there and finally drifted in-
to Janesville, penniless, much the
worse for drink, and craving for whis-
key. He was taken to the county jail
where he will serve out his sentence
unless some one of his relatives appears on the scene to pay the fine and
take him to his home in Chicago.

MAYOR HUTCHINSON HOME FROM RACINE

League of Wisconsin Municipalities
Almost Unanimous in Favor of Home Rule for Cities.

Mayor J. F. Hutchinson returned
last evening from Racine, where he attended the annual convention of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities. At the morning session yesterday a very interesting review of the legislation for cities passed by the legislature of 1935 was given by City Attorney Walter of Racine and the subject was taken up in a discussion
led by Alderman Henry Smith of Milwaukee. The latter advocated
the elimination of the power of making laws for cities from the duties
and prerogatives of the legislature
and the substitution of home rule for all municipalities. The idea met with much favor and by an almost unanimous vote the sentiment of the meeting that cities should govern themselves instead of being governed from Madison, was voiced. President S.
B. Sparling of the new state civil service commission, delivered a very interesting address on "Civil Service
in Wisconsin" at the Wednesday evening session. He urged the extension of civil service rules to cover
the entire list of city employees, and
the unification of the merit system
for the whole state by the co-operation of local commissioners and the state civil service commission.

THREE STRANGERS WHO WERE NOT WANTED IN THE CITY

Two of Them Were in Possession of a Small Burglary Kit—Driven Out of Janesville.

Two strangers, claiming to be cig-
armakers, were arrested and examined
by the police yesterday and found to be in possession of a fine file and a pair of nippers. They were unable to give any satisfactory explanation
of their presence here and were locked in a cell. The pair was driven out of the city this morning. An Italian organ-grinder was also driven
out on complaint of a lady residing
on Fifth avenue who did not like

MARKET PRICES AS TO THE BIG STAPLES

New York Letter on the Condition of the Stock Markets in Cotham.

(By J. S. Bache & Co.)
New York.—Wheat has been irregular. The weather in the West has continued favorable in the main, but receipts have run a little smaller, and
while there have been no fresh crop
apprehensions, reports of a better
foreign demand for flour, and on two or three occasions a little export demand have led to increased confidence
in present prices and checked the downward tendency whenever prices
have dropped 80 cents for September
in Chicago. The market closed the week at just about the lowest point,
however, and a cent under the closing
figure of last week.

Foreign crops are not so abundant
as last season, and while the American crop will furnish a fair export-
able surplus according to all accounts,
we hardly think the surplus will prove
burdensome around present prices.
Producers having received good prices
for last year's crop, are educated up
to expecting a fair return for their supplies, and we shall be surprised if
the new crop marketed conservatively
will naturally make a favorable
impression on the market and a withdrawal of country offerings on declines influencing the short interest
ought to make purchases on soft spots
an attractive operation. There are several things in the general situation against really low-priced commodities this season. December
wheat around $1.40 in Chicago ought
to do to buy for a turn.

Corn has ruled steady to firm,
and closes the week a slight advance.
There have been one or two turns
on predictions for frost in some of the corn States, but nothing of an unfavorable crop character has really developed, and it is probably that the monthly report on September 10th
will point to very little reduction in the previous crop indication. At the same time there is an excellent cash
demand, present supplies are not
burdensome, and the September bulls
appear to have the commanding position, however matters may shape
later on. Consequently, we favor
scalping purchases for the immediate.
The difference between September
and December has now widened to
about 10 cents a bushel, and it seems to us that purchases of December on
breaks should prove the best policy.
Oats have shown little feature, ruling
steady with corn.

PROVISIONS.
Support from both speculative and
trade sources, and for the week are about 25 to 50 points higher. It is said that there is a foreign short interest in the market, which is being
gradually forced out by the operations
of packing interests who have secured
control of most of the cash supplies,
and are in a position where an advancing market is to their interest.
If true, this would seem to point to a
renewal of support on moderate
breaks, and purchases would seem in order notwithstanding the recent gains.

PLEASANT BANQUET GIVEN TO THE G. A. R.

Marie Gibbs the Hostess at a Delicious Three-Course Luncheon
Last Evening.

W. H. Sargent Post, G. A. R., was
finely entertained last night at the home of Miss Marie Gibbs, 111 North Academy street. The happy occasion
had been anticipated for some time
by the old veterans. With the flag
leading the Post members left their hall at about seven o'clock, thirty strong. Upon arriving at Miss Gibbs'
home there was found a welcome of unusual proportions. The strong headlights of an automobile back of the residence led the way to the ground covered with a huge tent, in
the front of which was the word:
"Welcome." In the tent were a half dozen tables beautifully prepared and decorated with flowers. Electric lights
were put in for the occasion of an elaborate banquet. At each plate was found a hand-painted souvenir card,
the designs being different and exceedingly artistic. It was a three-course supper and was doubtless one
of the best served in Janesville for some time, such a repast as Miss Gibbs is well able to prepare. After supper the Post, through Col. Kimberley, presented Miss Gibbs with a beautiful piece of silver properly inscribed,
for which she made response. Singing followed, after which there were
a number of impromptu speeches, all abounding with words of praise
for the hostess. Miss Gibbs has been a member of the Woman's Relief Corps of the city for a number of years, and by her charitable work
for sick and distressed veterans and their families in our midst, and for innumerable acts of kindness to the local Grand Army Post, has won the admiration of all.

North-Western Road
Engineer F. A. Barter returned last evening from Pleasant Prairie, where he has been visiting relatives, and took the Chicago passenger run to Chicago this morning. Engineer Lew,
is being on a ten days' vacation.

Engineer Gosselin and Fireman
James Heagney double-headed the Belvidere time freight out of Janesville this morning.

Fireman Gesslund of Watertown is laying off the Watertown passenger.
Fireman Yates is taking his place.

Engineer Schoenberg laid off the night switch-engine last evening on account of illness and was relieved
by Ross Dunwiddle.

A. M. Zimmerman, storekeeper from Chicago, was a business visitor here
yesterday.

Switch-engine number 1043 is in the house for repairs. Number 492 is being used in its place.

The executive officers of the Union
of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders
of America have given up the strike against the Atchison, Topeka
and Santa Fe, which has been on since May, 1934. While the strike
has not been declared off, President
Dunn, of the union, advises his men
to seek positions elsewhere, as the organization can no longer support
them by strike benefits. Vice-President Kendrick, of the Santa Fe, says
the company will employ no more
union boilermakers, as the motive
power of the road was never in better condition than it is with the present workmen.

The interstate commerce commission is about to take steps to require
all railroads engaged in interstate commerce to increase the minimum
percentage of air brakes used on
freight trains to as great an extent
as conditions of equipment will permit. The commission has become impressed with the danger attending
the operation of freight trains in which an insufficient number of cars
are equipped with air-brakes, especially in the matter of "buckling." Recent accidents involving loss of life and property caused by the "buckling" of
freight trains when emergency applications of air have been made on
trains partly air-braked, have demonstrated that such accidents are not actually under the control of the engineer. It appears to the commission
that such accidents may be obviated
by requiring a number of cars in
trains greater than the 50 per cent
now required by law to have their
brakes operated by the engineer.

United States postal authorities are charging the railroads with abusing
the franchising privilege which the government gives them in connection
with the transportation of their own mail. The charge was made some time ago by prominent government
officials to several of the most influential railroad presidents and the latter were asked to stop the abuse. It was also intimated that unless some action was taken the government would have to take a hand in the matter.
For some time no heed was paid
to the warning given, but recently
the railroad presidents referred the matter to the American Railway Association. The association decided it was nothing which they could handle
or determine and referred it to the Association of Transportation and Car Accounting Officers. The latter organization, at its recent annual meeting held in Toronto, authorized
the appointment of a committee to draft rules for the adoption of all roads.

FRED PICKERING FELL OFF FENCE AND FRACTURED ARM

Son of Mrs. E. Pickering Met With Accident While at Play Wednesday Afternoon.

Fred Pickering, son of Mrs. E.
Pickering, South bluff street, and a lad still in his early teens, fell from a fence while at play late Wednesday
afternoon and fractured his right fore-
arm. Both bones were broken about midway between the wrist and elbow
and the gritty boy walked to the office of Dr. Merritt, where the fracture was reduced, without dropping
a tear, though suffering great pain
the while.

WESTERN CANADA

The "Bread-Basket" of the World.

Grand Soil.
Grand Crops.
Grand Climate.
Cheap Lands.
Good Markets.
Good Churches.
Good Schools.
Good Railway Facilities.
Good Water.
Contentment and Prosperity.
One crop often pays for the land
and improvements.

Western Canada is bound to become
the greatest wheat producing country
in the world.

A safe investment for the capitalist.
A farm in Canada is a money-maker
for any one.

Everyone who has ever been there
knows that it is a good country.
Buy now and you can't help but
make money.

No better soil on the face of the earth.
25 to 45 bushels of No. 1 hard wheat
to the acre.

75 to 140 bushels of oats and other
crops, just as good.

Barley, speltz, flax, millet, rye, peas,
potatoes, and root crops of all kinds
do well.

Not a severe climate; stock feed out
all winter.

No expensive barns needed.
Good water from 1 to 25 feet.
Plenty of good timber free to settlers.

A Great Opportunity

The opportunity that was in Illinois twenty years ago, in Iowa ten years ago, in Minnesota five years
ago, is today in Eastern Assiniboia.
Don't wait till the opportunity is past
to tell what you might have done.
Buy now.

The price of productive, cheap, well
located lands has always gone in but
one direction—and must, if history
repeats itself, go up by leaps
and bounds, that outstrip all other
safe investments.

Facts for the Settler Re- garding Cost and Profit of Farming in West- ern Canada.

In presenting the subject we have
to deal with in which prospective settlers and investors are most interested, and in order to answer the questions as to cost and profit from grain growing in western Canada, we copy the following table given out
by the manager of the Government Experiment Farm, carefully prepared
after years of experience in the cost of producing one acre of wheat,
which in this case is $9.04. REMEM-BER that these figures are based upon
on hiring all the work done in connection with the farm. If the settler performs the labor himself then
the only outlay in cash would be for seed, twine and threshing, in which case he would save nearly two-thirds of the cost of production. We have based our figures on an average yield
of 35 bushels per acre (which is less than the average for the past 12
years) at a price of only 75c per bushel.

COST OF PRODUCTION OF ONE ACRE OF WHEAT.

Breaking the prairie sod.....	$3.00
Harrowing.....	20
Seed wheat, 1/4 bushels at $1.00.....	25
per bushel.....	1.25
Seeding.....	25
Cutting, binding, including twine.....	1.25
Shocking.....	25
Threshing at 6c per bushel.....	2.10
Hauling to market, 2c per bu.....	.70
Interest on $10—cost of one acre.....	.60
One year's taxes on one acre of land.....	.04
Total cost of production one acre.....	$9.04
35 bushels of wheat per acre at 75c.....	$26.25
Net profit per acre.....	$16.61

The cost of production the second year will be reduced to $7.99 per acre, inasmuch as second plowing
can be done for $1.25 per acre instead of $3.00 for sod breaking.

The above figures extended over 640 acres will give the following remarkable result:
640 acres, 35 bushels per acre being 22,400 bushels,
at 75c per bushel.....$16,800.00

Cost of production at $9.04
per acre.....6,169.60

One year's net profit.....$10,630.40

Original cost of land $10 per acre.....$6,400.00

Leaving a net profit of.....$4,230.40

The land has paid for itself. You have your $9,400, the cost of the land, required to you, all expense of
farming paid and a clear gain of $4, 230.40. The land is now under a high state of cultivation and worth $15 per acre or $9,600. Join the crowd and go up with us. Excursion

SOUTHERN

WISCONSIN BUSINESS COLLEGE

DALE & GOUGH, Proprietors,

JANESVILLE, WIS.

Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, September 1, 1865.—The Normal School in Milwaukee.—Some of the most prominent men in Milwaukee are moving vigorously in the work of obtaining a Normal school in that city.

Seventeenth Senatorial Convention. The Union Convention of the 17th Senatorial District, composed of the County of Rock, assembled in the Court Room at noon today and adjourned until two o'clock when the convention met again. The representation was quite full as we should judge from the number in the hall. The early hour at which we go to press precludes the possibility of our giving the returns today.

City Items.—The question "What shall be done for tenement houses?" is getting to be a serious one in this city. No sooner does a man determine to make Janesville his home than the serious business of obtaining a house to live in engrosses his attention. It very soon becomes apparent to him that it is not a choice of good houses that is likely to puzzle him, but it is a question where he shall find anything to shelter his head. How this state of things can be made to comport with our recent census returns is more than we can see, unless at the previous census there was a greater floating population that swelled the figures. We believe this city was never in so flourishing a condition as regards a good, substantial population as now, and the demand for houses is becoming more and more pressing each week. Every new house put up in this city is an additional inducement for the greater increase of population. The denizens of "Happy Hollow" were up en masse before Justice Hudson this morning to settle a question of damages to a corn field which had been invaded by some cattle. The original estimates of the injury were five cents by one party and three dollars by the other. We suppose they felt better when the costs of the suit came to be paid.

The stock growers Association are working with vigor to prepare the State Fair. The fence and the buildings are progressing finely and the incomparable track is receiving daily improvement.

The Way to Dispose of a Legal Prosecution.—On Friday last, a man named John Wilkins was arrested at Boscobel, Grant County, on the charge of adultery and seduction, and brought to this city to undergo an examination. Arriving here in the evening, it was deemed best to postpone the examination until Saturday morning. Justice Hudson requiring a bail of $200 on each charge for the appearance of Wilkins at the hour of adjournment. The requisite bond was given by Mr. Ira Wilkins of Boscobel, who is company with the accused, and a lawyer (?) from the same town, left the justice's office, and up to date have failed to make their appearance. The presumption is that the whole crowd ran away. A most summary and dignified way of disposing of a prosecution, truly. Can't the legal fraternity of Janesville get a cue as to proceedings in similar cases from the Boscobel representative of Blackstone.

COMING Attractions . . . .

"The Forbidden Land" After the dress and the rapidity of the modern musical opera, "The Forbidden Land," the successful Stealy-Chapin comic opera, will come as a breeze from the groves of Balm. There is a cleanliness about the book, and a real humor about the lines that legitimate; its production sufficient, and its company splendid. It is headed by Edward Garvie and includes among others Charles A. Morgan, W. H. Clarke, Thomas Cameron, Hughie Flaherty, H. S. Austin, Abbott Adams, Alma Youlin, Grace McArt and Mabel Laffin. The chorus is pretty, fresh, large and well trained. The

is refreshing, and when it comes to the lyrics there is a sprightliness that suggests W. S. Gilbert. Mr. Chapin's music is one of the best of the class and is one of the most beautiful and scholarly scores that any composer has turned out in some time. As for the production entire, its motive is scenery is elaborate and costumes original, and one can hardly wish for a better evening's entertainment than can be found in "The Forbidden Land."

Will be presented at the Myers Grand, Monday, Sept. 4. Labor Day matinee and night.

on hand." Philadelphia's woman big-nist doubtless feels that she should be considered extremely moderate in contenting herself with only eight.

For a time, at least, the civilized nations, horrified at the sacrifices of warfare, may be expected to content themselves with waging wars against nations too small to help themselves.

No doubt it was wicked for the Milwaukee gamblers to conspire to "trim" wealthy Mr. Allis. However, it does not appear that a team of horses was used in dragging him into the gambler's den.

Considering how things have gone in the war, Japan may have considered it only fair that Russia should have a moderate "victory" in the peace negotiations.

That Taggart case is full of sensational surprises. Yesterday evidence was adduced showing that one of the principal persons concerned in it once declined a drink.

Susceptible persons who marry on sight are not capable of digesting lessons or it might be of some use to point out to them the lesson of the Hoch and Witzhoff cases.

On this particular occasion, Mr. Roosevelt distinguished himself by speaking softly and carrying a big olive branch.

Japan wanted peace all the time, but it could not resist the temptation to give Russia heart failure for a while.

If that Kentucky institution, the feud, is ever established in Iowa, undoubtedly it will have its origin in a dispute over the tariff.

Considering the number of cameras turned on it, the sun had every inducement in the world to look pleasant during the eclipse.

Some of the other nations will look on and say to themselves that they have had enough of modern war without having had any.

When it comes to making up a list of modern diplomats the name of Witte will hardly be left out.

It does not seem to Mrs. Taggart now as though she much more than tasted the stuff occasionally.

Linevitch's soldiers should get together and tender Teddy a vote of thanks.

Japan furnishes a superior quality of peace and Russia has reason to feel that it got a bargain.

A prohibitionist candidate for mayor of Atlanta might get a very large vote about this time.

Now the Balkan war cloud will have a chance to get a little attention once more.

Mr. Allis of Milwaukee had no idea he could buy so much publicity for a modest $40,000.

Portsmouth will need bromides and cold towels for a week to come.

Oyama can go back home and work at the trade of being a grand old man.

Witte was right about that celebrated kopeck after all.

As a roofer for peace Teddy is a good thing.

PRESS COMMENT.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The report that the cranberry crop is of extra fine quality this year is a reminder of the approach of Thanksgiving.

Chicago Record-Herald: "In Sweden a plumber is called a vattenledningsentreprenör." "He is, eh? I'll bet he charges for the time while he is being called it, too."

Wausau Record: Now it is said that the farmers are buying autos. If that is so, look out for a real movement for good roads and for a cessation of this anti-auto talk.

Exchange: An Oklahoma girl who advertised for a husband got one, after an expenditure of $11. He died within a year, leaving her $10,000. It continues to pay to advertise.

Chicago Tribune: Revised version: To the victors belong the privileges of being magnanimous.

Denver Post: A Boston man by the name of Kerr went out on a spree a week ago and has not been heard of since. Maybe the dog catcher got him.

El Paso Herald: Recent automobile fatalities merely confirm the truism that it is a dangerous thing to lock up 40 or 50 horse-power inside a small box and go careering over common roads with it.

Madison Journal: There seems to be a disposition in certain quarters to let Mr. McGillivray make his run for the governorship. And that quarter isn't the state capitol! They say "the boys" there are worried out of their shoes.

Eau Claire Leader: Lieutenant Governor Davidson is reported as getting a little weary doing the governor's work at Madison while Messrs. Houser, Connor, McGillivray and others are busy laying wires for the next campaign.

Racine Journal: It looks as if the soft undersoil upon which Chicago was built would not stand the tunnel construction which has been and is now going on beneath its streets, the complaints that buildings and foundations are settling in consequence, are increasing in numbers.

Kenosha News: The recent opinion that "setting hen" is wrong and that "sitting hen" is the correct form of expression would carry with it much greater weight if it had been made by a member of the Harvard faculty instead of coming from a Yale professor. Yale for football, but for subtle distinctions in philology Harvard first, last and all the time.

Berlin Journal: The Milwaukee street car company, after two weeks of experiment with stopping on the "near" crossing, has been compelled to go back to the old plan. It is too bad, for the near crossing is the best by all odds, only Milwaukee is so used to the far crossing idea that she don't like it. She would soon get used to it, however.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The sale of Abraham Lincoln's birthplace this week for $3,000, or just what the land is worth for farming purposes, reflects small credit upon the great state of Kentucky. Certainly, that state can well afford to even yet buy the old farm and convert it into a park in memory of the greatest of all presidents.

Evening Wisconsin: A New York woman laments the fact that the people of her city are content to eat green hog corn instead of green sweet corn, under the name of which all the green corn is sold. She might have broadened her lament so as to make it national—for the term sweet corn is truly applicable only to a small extent in reference to the green corn supply—and asked: "Why do you farmers who market their corn green plant one of the varieties of sweet corn and sell real sweet corn and sell real sweet corn instead of green hog corn?"

New Orleans Picayune: If the conductor of a newspaper knew every language, all science, all history, and all literature and possessed, in addition, a thorough knowledge of banking, commerce and manufacturing of every sort, and were an adept in law, medicine, theology, national, state and municipal politics and national and international economics, he would be none too well educated for the proper conduct of his business and yet to his vast stores of knowledge he would have to add a certain quickness and alertness and comprehensiveness of mind to enable him to give attention to all that might be occurring at each moment in his purview in human affairs. The journalist must deal with such a vast variety of subjects, and he must handle them on the spur of the moment with so little opportunity for immediate study that he must have secured and stored up his information beforehand, or else he will often be placed at great disadvantage when he is pronouncing upon immediate occurrences. A slip of memory or other mistake at such a moment by a journalist may subject his newspaper to ridicule or to more serious action for damages, while the judge on the bench may be guilty of the grossest error of official judgment, yet he is above criticism, although he has had all the time opportunity desired to study the case.

BRIEF NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Advance Sale: The advance sale of seats for "The Forbidden Land" opens tomorrow morning at nine.

Church is Ready: The Congregational church has been renovated and reoccupied this summer and the last work is now being done toward having the auditorium in readiness for Sunday. The services in all the departments of the church have been interrupted during the month of August, but will all be resumed as usual on Sunday. Rev. Denison has returned from his vacation and will be in the pulpit both morning and evening.

Found Lost Money: Last Tuesday Mrs. Geer, an elderly lady, lost a pocketbook containing $15 which she had earned by hard effort to help make up the sum of $500 which is to provide for her in a home for aged women in Milwaukee. It was found yesterday in Taylor Bros.' store, where she had stopped on her way home.

Nate Thornton Jailed: In municipal court this morning Nate Thornton pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was sentenced to pay a fine of $4 and costs, or spend eight days in jail. He was taken to the county jail. Thornton was driving on West Milwaukee street with a child when an officer got in with him yesterday afternoon and steered him to the bastille.

One New Smallpox Case: The infant child of Mrs. Williams living in the Goker home on Galena street is afflicted with the smallpox. The Kolbs, living downstairs, have completely recovered. ## MAN'S RULE WILL SOON BE ENDED

KINGDOM OF GOD AT HAND, SAYS ADVENTIST ELDER.

SERMON OF DR. FARNSWORTH

Statement That Conditions, Prophesied in Old Testament to Mark Doom, Are Here.

Elder Farnsworth, lately of Australia, spoke at the Adventist camp meeting last evening and gave to his audience which was of good size, about two hundred persons besides the campers being in attendance, some of the doctrines which distinguish the sect to which he belongs from all others. He said that the conditions, which in the old testament are promised to be those that are to exist just before the end of man's rule and the setting up of the everlasting kingdom, are the conditions of the present. The course of world events foretold in Nebuchadnezzar's dream have occurred and the kingdom of God may come at any time now. "Response of History to the Voice of Prophecy" was the subject of the sermon by Elder Farnsworth last evening. He used as his opening text 2 Peter 3:11-13, which opening text reads: "We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that take heed, unto a light that shineth in a dark place until the day dawn, and the day stars arise in your hearts." The following is his address in brief. The most sure thing in all the world is the sure word of prophecy. It is more sure than anything we can see.

Helplessness of the Lost
To illustrate the condition of man in his lost state, the speaker used a personal experience. He first stated that man lost, is in the most helpless condition for a man to be in.

The animal kingdom can help themselves under such conditions, better than man. Man in a lost state is utterly helpless. The speaker's experience was one of being lost on the prairies of Nebraska. The experience briefly was this: He started on a journey intending to arrive at his destination before night, and the darkness overtook him. He found that he was lost, and he traveled all night long until the next day dawned and then he saw a light in the distance, and it seemed to him that it was the best thing in all the world. He was lost, and this light was the only apparent salvation under the circumstances. It would seem utter folly for a man under these conditions to turn from the light. The people are refusing that light. The people would rather stay in darkness than to follow that light. The whole world is in darkness today, but there is light. We are living in the time of the day when day breaks. The pilgrim asks the watchman the question, "Watchman, what of the night?" The answer comes to us today that the morning is about to break. In the experience the speaker related concerning himself, there was nothing of more importance than the morning light which he saw, and today there is nothing more important for us than the gleams of the golden morning.

When End Will Come

God's word is a light unto our feet. God's word interprets itself. God is His own interpreter. The great difficulty in the world is that men endeavor to interpret the word of God themselves. This is the cause of the confusion in the religious world today. When we come to believe God's word and that it interprets itself, we may know the truth and see the light. The word says that "holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." It further states that "all Scripture is given by inspiration of God." To inspire means to breathe. The spirit of God therefore has breathed in the word of God the essence of the spirit of God. Can we not look for the gleams of this morning light—the time of the end? The Saviour was asked concerning this, "What shall be the sign of Thy coming and of the end of the world?" In response Christ said that there shall be signs in the sun, moon and stars, and on earth distress of nations, and that when ye see these things begin to come to pass know that it, the end, is near, even at the door.

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

The speaker turned to the 2d chapter of Daniel, which records the dream of King Nebuchadnezzar. He began by reading the 28th verse: "But there is a God in heaven that reveals secrets, and maketh known to the King Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days." The word of God further says that the things which are revealed are for us and for our children forever. The significance therefore of this dream pertains to the latter days. It is for those who live in the latter days. The dream briefly is this: Nebuchadnezzar had a great dream. He saw a great image whose head was of gold, his breast and arms of silver, his thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay. And he saw until a great stone was cut out of the mountain without hands and smote the image on the feet of it, and the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, were broken to pieces together. Now Nebuchadnezzar was greatly troubled in regard to this dream and called in Daniel to interpret it. Now as all Scripture is given by inspiration of God, this dream was also interpreted by inspiration. The prophet says to Nebuchadnezzar in the 28th verse, "Thou art this head of gold." Now it needs no speculation whatever to determine what this means. It is plainly stated that the head of gold symbolized the kingdom of Babylon.

Prophecy Being Fulfilled

The 39th verse states, "After these shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee." So in the year 538 B. C. the Medes and Persians besieged the city of Babylon and took it during a drunken feast of Belshazzar. So in direct fulfillment of this prophecy

Medo-Persia followed the kingdom of Babylon. "And another third kingdom of brass." And so as we ask the question what kingdom followed Medo-Persia, all can answer with one voice "Greece," for who does not know of the career of Alexander the Great, who swept through all the then known world and sat down in his palace at Babylon, and longed for more worlds to conquer.

Breaking up of Nations

The head of gold symbolized Babylon; the breast and arms of silver, Medo-Persia; thighs of brass, Greece; and there is one great kingdom left and that one is symbolized by the legs of iron. The 40th verse says, "The fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron, forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things, and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise." So the iron monarchy of Rome succeeded Greece. The 10th and 11th centuries A. D. western Rome was divided into ten kingdoms. These ten kingdoms were the Anglo Saxons, Alemanni, Burgundians, Franks, Visigoths, Suevi, Ostrogoths, Heruli, Lombards, and Vandals. The most of these kingdoms are standing today, though under different names, and they are still spoken of by historians as the ten kingdoms of western Rome.

Union Now Impossible

Since the breaking up of the Roman empire, Charlemagne, Louis XVI, and Napoleon Bonaparte have endeavored to unite all Europe under one head, but they have failed. So, according to the Scripture which reads, "Whereas thou sawest iron mixed with mly clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men," so the nations of Europe have endeavored to unite themselves by marriage, and all the crowned heads of Europe are related. But as the text declares, "they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay," so it is with their endeavors to become united, they cannot cleave one to another. Though their crowned heads are related, each nation stands as it were with their hand on the sword.

Kingdom of God at Hand

The word says, "In the days of these things shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to another people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever." In contrast to all the kingdoms gone before, it shall never be destroyed. And the prophet further says, "And the dream is certain and the interpretation there of sure." Where are we living today? We are living in the time when the God of heaven is to set up a kingdom.

History is repeating itself. As with Rome, there being two classes—the rich, and those of great poverty, so it is now. The middle class is being rapidly wiped out. There are strikes and bloodshed nearly everywhere, and in fact if there is not a strike somewhere, the condition seems not to be normal. Strikes are the normal condition. This interpretation is for those in the latter days, and we are living in the time when the King of kings is about to set up His kingdom which shall be forever. So let us prepare for this morning light. Let us prepare for the coming kingdom.

Morning Sermon

Elder N. W. Kauble occupied the 10:30 hour this morning. He emphasized throughout his discourse this fact above all, that those who withstand the last great conflict and come out victorious of the world and sit must be without fault, not before the church or any individual, but before the throne of God. He dwelt to quite an extent upon the eighth commandment, which is: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." He said: "It is not sufficient simply to know it, but we must know it to be the truth."

M'GREGOR CASE ON TRIAL TODAY

TROUBLE OF JULY 26 GETTING AN AIRING

IN THE MUNICIPAL COURT

Action for Divorce Is Also Pending in Circuit Court—Complaint and Its Answer.

Before a jury consisting of Albert Smith, Leo Brownell, Fred Schaller, Henry Kronitz, Paul Rudolph, and E. G. Harlow, the trial of the action for assault and battery brought against William M. McGregor on complaint of Lola C. McGregor, his wife, was commenced in municipal court this afternoon. The plaintiff claims that on July 26 the defendant, in a fit of rage, kicked her in the stomach, legs, and arms, knocked her down and stamped on her breast with his feet, inflicting injuries which confined her in bed many days and caused severe, almost fatal, sinking spells. The defendant denies that he did anything more than give her a shove with one foot, whereas she seized him by the shirt collar, tore the garment out, and kicked him with both feet. A divorce action brought by Mrs. McGregor is pending in circuit court. They live on a farm on Racine street just outside the city limits. Mr. McGregor was formerly an instructor in the Milwaukee Normal.

YOUTH WAS LOADING UP WITH PERFECTOS

In the Wisch Barber-Shop When Surprised by the Porter This Morning.

Shortly after Henry White, porter at the Wisch barber-shop, had opened the establishment at 6:30 this morning, a young man about eighteen years of age, who has been a patron there several times, entered and sat down, stating that he was going to wait for a car. Presently the porter went upstairs to sweep the sidewalk. While so engaged he caught a glimpse through the windows opening onto the stairway of the visitor making some queer movements downstairs and got there just in time to find the youth filling his pockets from the cigar case. He was promptly ordered to disgorge and get out, which he did. Later it was discovered that about 40 cents was missing from a tin stamp box in the case. Joe Burns saw the youth just after he emerged from the barber-shop but he evidently did not notice Mr. Burns. For, an hour later he entered the lively street and started to dicker for one of Mr. Burns' dogs. Negotiations were in progress when Constable Bogardus, by accident, happened on the youth. Upon catching sight of him the young fellow has not since been seen. His home is said to be in Monterey. Several times recently he has attempted to rent a riding horse at the Burns livery.

Smokers who used to pay ten to fifteen cents for cigars now puff up the Chiclos, and are better pleased and satisfied.

Miss Irene Crosby

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and vigor by taking Lydia E. ## BLOWN TO PIECES WHILE IN MIDAIR

Aeronaut Baldwin Meets Frightful Death at Greenville, Ohio.

MAY HAVE BEEN A SUICIDE

Unfortunate Man Despondent Over Bad News Before the Fatal Trip—Undertakers Recover Less Than One-Tenth of His Body for Burial.

Greenville, Ohio, Sept. 1.—Prof. Baldwin, the aeronaut, was blown to pieces and his mangled flesh scattered over a square mile of territory while floating in the air 2,000 feet above the heads of the 25,000 persons who visited the county fair.

There is a possibility that Prof. Baldwin's death was a suicide. A few days ago a spectator at a balloon ascension in Illinois grabbed the bar just as the balloon rose into the air. Despite the efforts of the balloonist to break his grasp, the man held on until he was sure he would be killed if he dropped. Then he let go and was dashed to death.

It is hinted that this was a cue to Prof. Baldwin. The professor's brother died in poverty in San Antonio, and the news of his death reached the professor just before he went up. "It is possible he then determined to kill himself in midair."

Just before Baldwin started his earthward trip after every ascension, he would let off twenty-five or thirty pounds of powder and dynamite in the shape of rockets and bombs. And it was this spectacular touch that caused his death.

Waves Farewell to Family.

The fatal ascension was made shortly after 5 o'clock. Men, women and children gathered in huge crowds, and with craning necks watched the upward flight of the big gas bag when it was released from its moorings.

Mrs. Baldwin, the aeronaut's wife, and his two children waved a farewell to him as his car left the earth. Perched on the rim of the car was a parrot which shrieked, "Up we go. Up we go." Hanging in the ropes was a monkey. Another of Baldwin's pets which always went up with him.

When the balloon reached an altitude of 1,500 feet it struck an air current and drifted slowly to the north, still climbing higher and higher.

Recovers One-Tenth of Body.

Then when the crowd was waiting expectantly for the pyrotechnic display a cloud of smoke suddenly enveloped the balloon. A second later a tremendous report reached the ears of the multitude.

The smoke drifted away, and then the horrified men and women discovered that there was no balloon and no man in the sky. Mrs. Baldwin shrieked and fell in a faint upon the ground.

A minute or two later the mangled remains of the aeronaut came to earth. The flesh was so torn it was scarcely recognizable as human. Baldwin weighed 250 pounds—the undertaker's shop contained less than one-tenth of him.

ALLIANCE IS A BINDING ONE

New Treaty Knits Closely Great Britain and Japan.

London, Sept. 1.—The conclusion of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance, which it was announced on Aug. 25 had been signed, has only now become definitely known to the English papers, which are keenly interested in it and are anxiously discussing its probable contents.

An important modification, binding either power to come to the assistance of the other if attacked by one, instead, as in the old treaty, of two powers, causes inquietude in some quarters, where it is thought to add enormously to Great Britain's responsibility, but on the whole complete satisfaction is expressed as to the scope of the new treaty as far as it is at present known.

The satisfaction throughout the country at the ending of the war is growing. The mayor of Moscow declares that the war was the main cause of the internal disturbances and that now everything has quieted down.

Pekin Hears of Peace Terms

Pekin, Sept. 1.—News of the terms of peace granted to Russia by Japan was received in Pekin with incredulity and afterward with amazement. China threatens to become troublesome in regard to Japanese occupation of Manchurian territory.

A lighted candle carried into the cellar of a two-story building in St. Louis ignited accumulated gas and the explosion wrecked the building.

CHAPTER XXIX.

GREAT is the recuperative power of youth, and shortly after sunrise the two were on the road again, refreshed and with high courage, to face the outcome of another long ride. They had traveled further than their estimate of the night before and so found themselves but little more than twenty miles south of Manchester. In the night the weather had undergone another change, and the sun was hidden, while now and then a scurry of rain passed over them.

"I have made up my mind," said Frances, "that we must part."

"I have been thinking myself that it is wrong you should share my danger when there is nothing to hinder you from going across country to your own home."

"I shall not go across my country until I have seen you safely into your own. But, as you know, the swearing colonel and his men are not looking for me. Perhaps they think I took the opportunity left open to get away from the cathedral; but, on the other hand, if wise, they must have looked for our horses' tracks, and then they learned we left Lichfield together. I propose to act as your scout. I shall ride a mile or two ahead, and if I am stopped you will strike to the right or to the left and avoid the danger if you can. On every elevation I reach I will stand for a few moments. If my horse faces west the way between us is safe. If it faces east there is danger."

"Frances, I would rather run the risk and have your company."

"My plan is a good one, unless you have a better to propose. We must quit the main road now and avoid Manchester as we avoided Birmingham, but we should have a care that we do not ride into another ambush, and if I go first that may be prevented."

"When I see you interfered with, I will just gallop to your assistance."

"You shall do nothing so foolish. No one in England is going to injure me, but you are not safe until you are over the Scottish line. We shall be north of Manchester in three or four hours, and then you have your own pass. You are really a most creditable Roundhead. After Manchester we can travel in company again, if you wish. Have you anything better to propose?"

"Yes, I propose we stay together and take our chances."

"Goodby," she cried gayly, touching up her horse, then, over her shoulder as she galloped off, "Remember—west, safety; east, danger."

Armstrong had not only to curb his own inclination, but his horse as well, who viewed with evident disapproval the departure of his mate. At the summit of the first hill the girl turned her horse across the road facing west, waved her hand to him and disappeared over the crest. And thus the journey went on; sometimes two miles between them, sometimes less. Manchester was seen and left in the rear. He now tried to catch up with her, but she kept valiantly ahead, as if she were some fabled siren luring the poor man on. For a time he lost sight of her, then, as he mounted a hill, saw her standing on a crest a mile away, like an equestrian statue against an ink sky, but this time her horse faced the east, and he thought she was motioning with her handkerchief in that direction.

She stood there until he sent his horse over the hedge and made in the direction of a forest, then the darkness seemed to swallow her up. He skirted the edge of the wood. Rain was now coming down heavily, but before it blotted out the landscape he passed the head of a valley and saw dimly through the downpour a large encampment of white tents. A man in drab on a black charger stood little chance of being seen against the dark forest from the encampment, but he moved on as rapidly as he could, knowing that if a hill came in the deluge he ran great risk of detection by the outposts. Some distance on he stood for a time, under the trees, blessing the long cloak, which formerly he had maligned for its ugliness, for now it proved of good material and waterproof. The girl had evidently gone down into the camp, and he was at a loss what to do.

He resolved to turn north, go on until he reached some place of shelter and there wait for Frances. Progress was slow, for the lane had become a quagmire. The forest which he had skirted extended now to the west, and the road became a woodland track, but just where it began to penetrate into the wilderness there shone upon him a ray of hope. From an overhanging branch of the first tree hung a lamp and dripping white rag, tied by one on horseback in such a position that it might brush the face of a rider passing that way. He took it down, and it proved to be a lady's handkerchief. He thrust this taken under his cloak and chattered to his discouraged horse. When something like a milk had been cast behind him, his horse neighed and was answered by another farther ahead. Then he came to a forester's hut, and in an open shed, sheltered from the storm, stood the companion of Bruce, who showed lively pleasure at the encounter.

Inside the hut a cheerful sight met his eyes. A fire of fagots blazed on the hearth, and before it stood a radiant young woman arranging the brands to their better burning with the tip of her boot. On a high stool was spread her steaming cloak. In a far corner sat the old forester and his wife. The moment the dripping horseman shoved in the door the old woman rose and began to set out a meal of dark bread and swine's flesh, boiled and cold.

"Ah, here you are at last!" cried the girl. "I was beginning to fear I should have to go back to the camp for you. Did you find my token?"

"Yes."

"Give it to me."

"Not so. Findings are keepings. You cannot prove your right to the property."

"Alas, honest travelers are few, as these good people seem to think. Throw off your cloak. Here is a wooden hook by the fire that I have kept for it. Draw up your stool and eat. I was so hungry that I didn't wait. You see what it is to possess a good conscience once more."

"What news have you?"

"Hush! Great news, for I am, the

Scotland at the nearest point, where at Carlisle I am less than ten. Every step east I go I am placing myself more and more at a disadvantage, yet I might go east simply because of this and because they know that I know that they know I am on the road to Carlisle. Having fallen into one ambush they will imagine me on the constant outlook for another. Going free for so long, they might even count on my increasing carelessness, but shrewd men would not listen to that. Knowing I am single handed and can make no stand, they will expect me to creep through at night either east or west of Carlisle and as near as may be to that place, trusting to the short distance and the fleetness of my horse in a race for the Scottish border. I am a billman, accustomed to threading my way through a wild country, with a keen eye for an enemy. I have avoided all the big towns, Birmingham, Manchester and the like, so they will not expect me to risk either Newcastle or Carlisle. Night will be the time when they are greatly on the alert, especially if this storm continues. Very well again. Who am I if questioned? I am a trooper of Cromwell's own horse, sent north from Warwick, having seen this escaped devil of a Scot and therefore the more likely to identify him. I have become detached from my company in the storm. I will ride into Carlisle in broad daylight and ask where the Warwick horse are to be found.

They were ordered to Carlisle, I shall say. I shall not avoid the commander, but will seek for him. Then if I can saunter over the bridge it's 'Hoora! for Scotland,' and may the best hoof win."

"I hope you will, I said I would see

"COME DOWN WITH ME, YOU TRAITOR!"

very princess of scots. One thing at a time, however, and the one thing now is this black bread. We can get nothing for our horses at this place, so must set out again as soon as possible, in spite of the rain."

Once on the road again she gave him her budget of news.

"You are a hero, William Armstrong. England is ringing with your exploits, and I never dreamed with what a valorous knight of old I traveled. It seems you stormed Warwick castle and took it. You passed unseen through columns of troops, and it is suspected you have dealings with the devil, who travels beside you in the guise of a female, as is right and proper, and who appears and disappears at her will. You attacked Lichfield cathedral and captured it, and there is much disapproval among the peasantry that Cromwell had formerly dismantled that for they think that it had not been done the holy belongings of the place would have baffled you."

"You think then that my feardish character will protect me?"

"Not so. But you have nothing to fear between here and Carlisle. I thought you said De Courcy had been killed?"

"He went down, and I supposed him shot, but was in too much of a hurry to inquire."

"He and others rode to the north last night, and they are now between us and Carlisle."

"He has as many lives as a cat. If that is the case why do you say the road to Carlisle is clear?"

"Because from Carlisle to Newcastle, right across England, the cordon is to be stretched, and from Carlisle west to the coast. Before we can reach there a line of men, almost within touching distance of each other, will extend from sea to sea, and all traffic north will be stopped. A thousand pounds is on your head. The general himself is on his way north to see that you are trapped, or to be ready for any outbreak of the Scots should you win through."

"I fear I have been unable to convince Oliver that I am the devil, since he takes such excellent human means of frustrating me. A thousand pounds! And yet you held that first day I was of slight value!"

"What do you propose to do?"

"You are the plan maker of this foray. What do you propose to do, or have you thought of that yet?"

"I have not only thought of it, but have received instructions on it. I have heard the officers discuss what should be done, but I want to hear your conclusions first."

"Very well. The line runs from the west coast to Newcastle. At Newcastle I am more than forty miles from you across into Scotland, but I am convinced that purpose is futile, and I shall prove but a danger to you. A Warwick trooper on duty does not wander over the country a-squinting of dimes. I have given you good advice in spite of the rain."

They had long since reached the main road and were making way as well as they could through the mud. The rain had not ceased, nor did it show any sign of ceasing. Armstrong asked:

"You never told me how you managed to get so much information in the camp. Did they let you pass unquestioned?"

"It happened that I knew the officer in charge, and he knew me and was rather apologetic in his demeanor toward me, for he was one of those of the court martial who condemned my brother. I told him, truly enough, that I had been to see Cromwell and had obtained his complete pardon; that I had seen the general at Northampton, where he had made me a promise, and again at Broughton castle, where he had redeemed it. I was now on my way home. That was all. The officer was very glad indeed to hear of my success and said, what was also true, that he had deeply regretted the condemnation, but that the court could not do otherwise with the evidence before it. He had no suspicion that I was the female fiend who accompanied the man they sought, and as the talk was all of this man I could not help but hear and was indeed very glad to listen."

Predict Another War.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—Predictions of a new war against Japan as soon as Russia shall have recovered from the last conflict, are mingled with lamentations over the terms of peace in the newspaper comment.

This belligerent tone, is most pronounced in Novoe Vremya. The editor, M. Souvorin, refuses to believe in the stability of peace, and contends that it is simply a stage toward a new struggle between Russia and Japan. The Novoe Vremya's article displays further irritation, toward President Roosevelt for his mediation, which the paper considers was "regrettable, inopportune and even disastrous for Russia."

NOVELTY IN PEDESTRIENNE COSTUME

Although Paris is indulging in skirts that show an appreciable length of train, the charms and convenience of the short skirt appeal so strongly to the more practical American women that they are sure to retain their hold upon the fashions of the coming season. While there is a certain incongruity in the conjunction of a long coat and short skirt, nevertheless, it is a combination that will be much seen. The model is one of those heavier silkenettes in a medium shade of brown, and a fancy braid is called upon for trimming effect, this braid just a trifle darker than the cloth. The coat has fitted body portion, and full circular skirts applied at the waistline, deeply pressed pleats appearing in the back and either side of the front. The chemise is of velvet, adorned with braid, and the side collar is similar in construction. The skirt is one of those many gore flat collar that display a pleat or group of pleats in each gore, and two rows of braid upon the hem is its sole trimming. The cut is short enough to clear all around, and display the smart shiny black shoe to advantage.

KANSAS MEN SEEK REVENGE FOR RAID

Utterances of Survivors of Quantrell's Band Have Deeply Stirred State.

Topoka, Kan., Sept. 1.—All Kansas gradually is getting white hot over the brutal utterances of members of Quantrell's garrison band, who met at Independence, Mo., some days ago. Not content with looking at the events of forty years ago through the glasses of to-day, one of the aged border ruffians, in talking of the sacking of Lawrence, Kan., declared:

"I am sorry now we did not wipe them out."

This brutal utterance started things. Some old time residents of the town that was burned and ravished by Quantrell recalled that indictments charging murder against forty-three of Quantrell's men were returned in Lawrence in 1863.

The discovery stirred the Lawrence people into action and Gov. Hoch was asked if it is discovered that any of the forty-three are alive if he will issue requisitions on Gov. Folk in order that they may be put on trial for their lives.

The governor intimated that should such a request be made he in turn will issue the necessary papers.

"The memory of the wholesale human slaughter that took place at Lawrence on the morning of Aug. 21, 1863," said the governor, "is unspeakably revolting. Why anybody is still living forty-two years after that awful saturnalia of blood who desires not to forget it is incomprehensible to persons of merciful instincts."

Judge S. A. Riggs is engaged in preparing a statement of the evidence and indictments returned against the members of Quantrell's raiders on Nov. 18, 1863, and soon a complete statement will be given to the public.

STATE FAIR SEPTEMBER 11-15

This Year's Fair to Excel All Others Held in Wisconsin.

Every man, woman and child in the state of Wisconsin should make it a special point to attend the state fair to be held at Milwaukee, Sept. 11-15. Special half-fare rates have been granted on all railroads for the week and the management of the state fair has provided a list of attractions which cannot fail to be of great profit and pleasure to all who enter the beautiful grounds and devote their time to examining the exhibits, enjoying the superb racing and the special spectacular events provided for each afternoon and evening. The racing this year is to be uncommonly fine. Wisconsin has offered more in premiums for horse racing than any other state fair in the United States, and it is expected that many fast records will be broken during fair week. The grounds are to be open in the evening as well as in the day time, and each evening there will be a magnificent display of fireworks with other spectacular features. There will be music on the grounds all the time, both afternoon and evening, by a large variety of bands, headed by Liberator's famous military band.

An innovation will be noticed at the gates this year, whereby the visitor to the fair will deposit a coin in an automatic gate instead of buying a ticket. These are the same gates that have been used at the world's fair. Every accommodation has been provided on the grounds this year for the comfort and convenience of visitors. The splendid new stock judging pavilion will be dedicated on the opening day of the fair. It will be used during the week for indoor stock judging events and special entertainment features. The Publicity building, with check room facilities, will prove a special accommodation.

The state fair is an event that belongs to the people of the state of Wisconsin, and they owe it to themselves, as well as to the fair, to give it the largest possible attendance. Remember the dates, from Monday, Sept. 11th, to Friday, Sept. 15th.

IS CASTRO LOOKING FOR WAR?

Work on Ironclad for Venezuela Being Pushed by Cramps.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Rush orders on the Venezuelan cruiser Retador, now being completed at Cramp's shipyards, Philadelphia, after a lapse of two years, during which time no work has been done on it, has convinced the officials here that President Castro is expecting to make trouble on some pretense in South America.

That he is anticipating trouble with the United States as a result of a possible unfavorable report by W. J. Calhoun of Chicago, who has been sent to Venezuela by the president to investigate American affairs, is surmised.

New Western Golf Champion. Chicago, Sept. 1.—Miss Frances Everett is no longer the western golf champion. The title holder was deposed in the second match round of the Women's Western Golf association tournament at Flossmoor by Mrs. W. France Anderson of Hinsdale, who won by 1 up in nineteen holes.
